Remember why you wanted to become a doctor in the first place?

At Cancer Treatment Centers of America, cancer treatment begins and ends with the patient

We call it Patient Empowerment Medicine. And it means better quality of life for our patients. And greater professional satisfaction for our physicians. It's an approach we pioneered nearly 28 years ago. And right now, you have the opportunity to help shape the future of integrative cancer care when you join Cancer Treatment Centers of America.

Spend more time with patients, less time with paperwork

For many doctors today, the business of medicine has begun to overshadow the practice of medicine. Reams of paperwork and insurance company red tape consume more and more of your time, leaving less time for you and your patients.

Not so at Cancer Treatment Centers of America (CTCA). With a full-time administrative support staff in place, CTCA oncologists have the infrastructure and assistance they need to make patient care priority one.

Patient empowerment. Medical excellence.

Our patient-centered philosophy is simple. Give each patient the tools and resources they need to make informed decisions about their care and treatment. This includes providing each patient with access to a team of skilled medical and health care professionals, each one focused on a particular area of expertise, from oncology and immunotherapy to nutrition and spiritual guidance.

Integrative medicine – For mind, body and spirit

As an oncologist with Cancer Treatment Centers of America, you'll be part of a multi-disciplinary team focused on the physical, emotional and psychosocial well-being of our patients. Our unique, holistic approach to cancer treatment affords patients greater control and quality of life, while providing physicians with the resources, flexibility and additional expertise they need to treat the whole patient, not just the disease.

Throughout the treatment process, every patient and physician has access to the skills and expertise of a well-rounded team of health care professionals and support personnel.

At CTCA, the power to heal has never been greater.

Innovative technologies

Of course, our commitment to healing doesn't end with our people. We've also made a commitment to staying on the leading edge of medical technology and technique.

- IMRT
- 3-D conformal imaging and treatment planning
- Brachytherapy
- BMT (Autologous, Allogeneic, DLI)

Breakthrough techniques

When you bring so many talented people together, with such diverse areas of expertise, you're bound to discover some very creative solutions. At CTCA, we foster that creativity by actively supporting a non-profit research foundation pursuing new methods of fighting cancer. Research conducted by the foundation is integrated throughout our organization. The result is enterprise-wide access to the latest clinical advancements and, quite often, accelerated treatment breakthroughs.

Advanced medicine...your way

Finally, there's a place where you'll find the resources and support you need to do what you do best...care for patients. Join us at one of our five state-of-the-art treatment centers and help lead a team of like-minded professionals in the fight against cancer.
